Who makes Spectrolab solar panels?

Spectrolab, a wholly owned subsidiary of The Boeing Company, is the world's leading merchant supplier of the highest-efficiency space solar cells, CICs and panels available to prime satellite contractors and manufacturers around the world.

Where is Spectrolab based?

Spectrolab is headquartered in Sylmar, California, about 20 miles northeast of Los Angeles. The company was founded in 1956, and is one of the world's leading suppliers of photovoltaic solar cells, solar panels, searchlights, and solar simulators. Spectrolab has been supplying solar array panels to the space industry for 60 years.

Does Airbus manufacture solar panels?

As a leading European manufacturer of power solutions, Airbus has vast experience in providing turnkey solar arrays, photovoltaic assemblies and solar cell assemblies for institutional and commercial applications. The company also offers a full range of electronics - including power control units and power processing units for electric propulsion.

Does Spectrolab offer a GaInP/GaAs/Ge matched 3J solar cell?

Spectrolab offers a range of GaInP/GaAs/Ge lattice matched 3J solar cells with efficiencies reaching 32%. Spectrolab offers a range of GaInP/GaAs/Ge lattice matched 3J solar cells with efficiencies reaching 32%. The greatest share of Spectrolab's product deliveries are fully assembled space solar panels based on a customer's specifications.

Who makes smallsat solar panels?

With its cutting-edge Sparkwing design, Airbus is the go-to partner for hassle-free smallsat solar arrays. TESAT offers inter-satellite as well as direct-to-Earth laser communication with disruptive "New space" products. In addition, Jena Optronik developed ASTRO CL, a breakthrough star sensor for smallsat and "New space" applications.

Who makes spacecraft solar cells?

Spectrolab Inc., a Boeing Company, is the world's largest manufacturer of spacecraft solar cells. In 2009, Spectrolab broke another industry record when it announced the completion of its latest technological innovation, a solar cell with the ability to convert 41.6% of the sun's rays into electrical power, a first in the solar cell industry.

Today, we create world-class innovative solutions that are powering the space industry. We offer a suite of vertically-integrated space solar PVA panel products, each specifically designed for missions to LEO, MEO,
