The creation of a 12V gel battery is a great illustration because new technology has made the battery safer. The 12V gel batteries use the special gel as an electrolyte instead of pure liquid acid. The essential lead plates are suspended in this ...

gel battery applications What's a gel battery? A gel battery is a dry battery since it doesn't use a liquid electrolyte. In a gel battery, the electrolyte is frozen with silica gel. This keeps the electrolyte inside the battery, preventing it from evaporating or spilling. This design stabilizes the battery and gives it a low self-discharge.

Things like quick charging, high discharge, or other intense situations are all likely to cause serious damage to a gel battery, making it fail even if it's barely used. AGM batteries use the concept of gel batteries and take it a step further. This makes for a product with the same resistances and the same sealed and spill-proof case as a gel ...
