Introduction. Promoting the development of renewable energy (RE) is crucial for accelerating the clean-energy revolution [1, 2]. Since the promulgation of the Renewable Energy Law of the People's Republic of China in 2006, China has issued a series of policies to promote the development of the RE industry, mainly including feed-in tariff (FIT) and renewable ...

In terms of the policy mechanism of the two policies, on one hand, FIT relies on price regulation by guaranteeing renewable energy generators with a specified tariff for the energy they produce (e.g., USD per kWh) for a fixed number of years, usually about 10-20 years (REN21, 2017) T is often employed alongside a regulation that allows renewable energy ...
