

Under this collaboration, Rheinmetall and Anduril will work together to design, develop, and produce new layered Counter small Unmanned Aerial System (C-sUAS) air defense systems. The scope of this collaboration ...

Rheinmetall is also expanding its ammunition plant in Hungary, adding production lines for 155mm shells and 120mm ammunition, amid European criticism for shortages in artillery ammunition capacity. As geopolitical dynamics evolve, Rheinmetall's dedication to strategic partnerships positions it well to meet the changing needs of military ...

The "Rheinmetall ESM Ka-Band" (REKa-50) serves as an essential part of the MASS_ISS system complex. It can detect and engage threats in the millimetre wave radar frequency range. Rheinmetall's MASS system was launched into the market in 2002 and is now operational in 14 countries.

Rheinmetall Defence Australia has teamed up with Adelaide-based technology company Supashock, to develop a what the company claims to be a world-first sea mine rail deployment system, known as the Mine Rail ...

Rheinmetall's game-changing Mission Master Autonomous - Unmanned Ground Vehicle (A-UGV) family has just gained a new member: the Mission Master - Armed Reconnaissance. Equipped with intelligence-gathering technology and a Rheinmetall Fieldranger remote-controlled weapon station (RCWS), the new Armed Reconnaissance module is ...

CONTACT FOR VOTING RIGHTS NOTIFICATIONS. Please send any voting right notifications by email to: votingrights@rheinmetall The e-mail address votingrights@rheinmetall has been set up exclusively for the electronic transmission of voting rights notifications.

The Argus soldier system is already in service with the Canadian Armed Forces. Rheinmetall also provides the Future Soldier - Expanded System (IdZ-ES) to the German Bundeswehr. According to the company, the systems are designed to bring individual infantry soldiers, combat vehicles and unmanned systems into the tactical sensor-to-shooter network.

Rheinmetall has received orders worth a combined EUR220m to deliver air defence hardware and related services to airforces of two unknown foreign countries.. The first order was placed by a new customer for two Skyguard 3 air defence systems designed for protecting critical facilities and infrastructure from current and future threats at very short ranges.

Elbit Systems and Rheinmetall Canada have inked a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to pursue Canada's Joint Fire Modernization (JFM) project.. Canada's $100m to $249m JFM project aims to facilitate instant near real-time sharing of Common Operating Picture (COP) regarding targets, locations and command and control activities ...

American Rheinmetall Vehicles, LLC, a subsidiary of Germany-based Rheinmetall Defence, is teaming with Textron Systems in pursuit of the US Army's Optionally Manned Fighting Vehicle (OMFV) program. American Rheinmetall Vehicles is forming a US industry team that will consist of numerous leading US defense companies, including ...

Rheinmetall has reached a deal with MaxamCorp to take over the entire share capital of Spanish ammunition maker Expal Systems. Skip to site menu Skip to page content. AT. Menu. ... Expal Systems is currently expecting sales of EUR400m in fiscal year 2022-23 while the company's overall capacity for potential annual sales is between EUR700m and ...

With its recent takeover of Spanish ammunition producer Expal Systems SL, Rheinmetall has further reinforced its already extensive expertise in the field of infantry fire support.. The group's product range encompasses a ...

According to Rheinmetall, the reconnaissance system can be easily transported from one area of operation to another, as it can quickly be loaded on trailers. It can be assembled with the help of three personnel while ...

Rheinmetall is a leading international systems supplier to the defence industry and a driver of forward-looking innovations in the civilian markets. ... Contact Your request to Power Systems Division * Mandatory field Title Company First name * Last name * E-Mail * Your Message * You can find our data protection information here. Send message ...

Since then, Rheinmetall has revealed that the system will be on the market by the end of the decade Credit: MBDA Germany. Two German armament manufacturers, MBDA Deutschland and Rheinmetall, through a ...

Acting as a sub-contractor to Lockheed Martin Canada (LMC), Rheinmetall is building the MASS systems at its Buck Fronau plant in Bavaria, while the NLWS options are being procured from Saab Grintek Defence in South Africa. The subsystems and MASS systems will be delivered to LMC for integration into the frigates.

Web: <https://www.nowoczesna-promocja.edu.pl>

