Why did Mozambique shut down 300 megawatts of power?

In neighboring Zambia, 300 megawatts of power imports from Mozambique have been halted after state-owned utility Zesco Ltd. received notification of an "indefinite unavailability of power exports" related to the shutdowns. A severe drought has sapped Zambia's hydro power generation, which supplies the bulk of its electricity.

Who is Zambian energy company?

Zambian energy company engaged in developing and investing in scalable and sustainable renewable energy projects in Zambia and the rest of sub-Saharan Africa, focusing on the generation, transmission and distribution of green hydrogen, solar and wind power.

Why is Zambia relying on Mozambique?

A severe drought has sapped Zambia's hydro power generation, which supplies the bulk of its electricity. That's left Africa's second-largest copper producer to rely on Mozambique to cushion its supply gap.
