Are free solar panels a lie?

While the word "free" implies there are no associated costs, this is not usually the case with free solar panel offers. "I have never seen an advertisement offering free solar that is not a lie," said Neil Gallagher of Brighterway Solar, a solar installation company in Florida.

Are you eligible for free solar panels?

Some of these incentives include free solar panel programs. To be eligible for free solar panels, you'll likely have to meet an income requirement. Low-income households are more likely to be eligible for free solar panels. However, most of these "free solar panel" incentives come with a lease or PPA agreement.

Are 'free' solar panels a scam?

If you are in the market for solar, you may have seen ads from companies offering "free" solar panels. While these offers are not necessarily scams, they can be misleading. Solar panels are never free, but may not require a down payment when purchasing them if you are financing using a solar lease or PPA.

Do you own solar panels with a "no cost solar" agreement?

You will not own the solar panels with one of these "no cost solar" agreements. In other words, solar leases are essentially like renting solar panels. The solar company handles all of the installation and maintenance for a specified term, which is usually around 20 to 25 years.

Are free solar panels a good idea?

If you're looking for free solar panels, or at least solar panels with less cost upfront, solar leases, solar loans, and community solar are good options. Regardless of its "do-good" image, the solar industry is a for-profit enterprise like any other.
