

Each cabinet has been equipped with an identical 230V power supply, input and output barriers, connection terminals and a fuse box. The only variable is the number of metering streams that ...

Each cabinet has been equipped with an identical 230V power supply, input and output barriers, connection terminals and a fuse box. The only variable is the number of metering streams that can be connected. Due to the modular set-up, each cabinet supports 2, 3 or 4 streams.

