How many solar projects are there in West Lindsey?

There are four proposed solar projects for West Lindsey. Low Carbon's Gate Burton Energy Park, Island Green Power's Cottam Solar Project and West Burton's Solar Project, and Tillbridge Solar Limited's Tillbridge Solar Project.

Could a large solar farm be built in West Oxfordshire?

Developers are proposing to establish a large solar farm to the west of Oxford within the districts of West Oxfordshire, Cherwell and the Vale of White Horse. The scale of the proposal is so significant, that it cannot be determined by the district councils through a normal planning application process.

Will Botley west solar farm be built in 2023?

Photovolt Development Partners (PVDP) said it would be based across three different sites and would create power for up to 330,000 homes. The Botley West Solar Farm would need special government classification, which PVDP could apply for in 2023. The solar farm would be built on sites north of Woodstock, west of Kidlington and west of Botley.

Is Botley West Solar Farm a NSIP project?

Botley West Solar Farm will be classified as a Nationally Significant Infrastructure Project (NSIP) due to its proposed generation capacity being over 50 MW. Dominic Hare, Chief Executive Officer at Blenheim Palace, made this statement.

Where will a solar farm be located in West Lindsey?

This will cover an area of approximately 1,400ha and is located entirely within the administrative area of West Lindsey District Council. The solar farm would connect to the national grid via underground cables connecting to National Grid's Cottam substation located approximately sixteen kilometres to the south-west of the solar farm site.
