

How can Sudan achieve energy self-sufficiency?

Encouraging solar and wind power in the country's energy portfolio could help Sudan achieve its goal of energy self-sufficiency. Egyptian policies such as nurturing and promoting renewable technologies and scientific research, feed-in tariffs, and tax exemptions could help Sudan achieve its objectives.

Does Sudan have solar energy?

Solar energy has the greatest potential for use in Sudan compared to other forms of RE. Sudan possesses an average annual radiation range of 436 to 639 W/m² per year, which exceeds the annual global average. The period of solar radiation in the country is between 8.5 and 11 hours per day.

Will Sudan's First Solar Park be built in the UAE?

According to the country's Ministry of Energy, an unspecified UAE solar company has committed to building several large scale PV plants across the country. These new projects would be granted a 20-year PPA and would be Sudan's first solar parks. Few specifics were outlined in the statement.

What are the challenges facing Sudan's energy sector?

Sudan's energy sector is facing numerous challenges: persistent blackouts, an inadequate energy infrastructure, and a poor and scattered government response.

Is Sudan's Energy Sector Sustainable?

Further, Sudan's energy sector is currently subsidised by the government. Government subsidies to the sector totalled $667 million in 2019. This represents 13.5% of total government expenditures. Financial sustainability could be achieved by introducing gradual tariff adjustments.

How can Sudan restructure its energy sector from Morocco?

One of the most useful strategies Sudan can adopt from Morocco is the use of new legislation and new policies to restructure the energy sector. This recommended adjustment could encourage future investments targeting renewable production and attract more foreign and local investors to participate in renewable production projects.
