What is the Maldives solar project?

The Maldives solar project is a 36 MW solar power project and 50 MWh of battery energy storage solutions development across various islands in the Maldives. It also includes grid modernization for the integration of variable renewable energy with the grid, which will be financed under the proposed AIIB loan.

Will the Maldives be able to use solar energy?

Since then, the country has experienced political upheaval, a period of authoritarian retrenchment, and more recently, a return to democracy and calm under the leadership of President Ibrahim Mohamed Solih. The Maldives would like to rapidly deploy renewable energy, primarily solar, given our abundant sunshine.

Are solar panels a real thing in the Maldives?

Taking advantage of that World Bank guarantee, and the private investments that followed, the Maldives is rolling out solar projects from the capital city, Malé, to far-flung island communities. Short on land, the country is even pioneering the use of floating banks of solar panels in lagoons.

Should investors invest in sustainable solar projects in the Maldives?

In 2014, the first 1.5 MW solar project under ASPIRE only had four investors bids, and resulted in a high power purchase price (PPA) of 21 US cents per unit of electricity, indicating a lack of interest from investors in investing in sustainable projects in the Maldives.

What are the challenges facing solar projects in Maldives?

Challenges facing such projects include integrating solar with existing power sources on the grid, off-taker risk, weak procurement, and planning capacity. The objective of the ASPIRE project is to increase photovoltaic (PV) generation in Maldives through private-sector investment. Approved in 2020, the ARISE Project scaled up this process.
